“ The beautiful cacti that my auntie Lupe grew from one single little cactus she picked up on the side of the road. My auntie certainly had a green thumb. She loved gardening and knew how to put the love and care into her plants. She sent me these pictures to show me how much her " baby" had grown. She was so happy and always eager to show me how big and beautiful her plant was growing. She once told me "Look mija my baby is having babies."
I just pray that your at peace now auntie. I hope you know how so much you are loved and will always be missed

“ I'm sharing this picture of my auntie Lupe because this particular day my auntie had forgotten for a while that she was sick, this day she was feeling happy. My auntie's chemo treatments were causing her hair to thin out so this day my mom took her to get her hair done at Tony's salon. My auntie was so happy and loved the way her hair came out. She told my mom she felt pretty. What my auntie didn't know is that she has always been a beautiful woman. She had a heart of gold and always made sure her family was her first priority. My mom, Anita, was her best friend. Before my auntie got sick they spent every summer weekend going to garage sales. They were always together. When I would call my mom she would say "I'm having lunch with your auntie today." I'd say "Okay mom. Have a good lunch. Tell auntie hi. Love you guys."

My auntie who was a hardcore Dallas Cowboys fan would tease me and say "Sorry mija your Donkeys are going down."

I'm going to miss hearing her saying that to me.

One time when I picked up my auntie and cousin after getting a flat tire in Denver she found a tiny cactus on the side of the road. She put that little plant in a jar and took it home. She nursed that cactus until it grew into a beautiful cacti plant that bloomed with flowers. She was so proud of her plant she would send me pictures of how big it grew. I told her it was because her plant had a good momma and that little cactus was waiting for her to come find it. I truly hope my auntie knows how much she was loved and how much she will be missed.

“ Auntie I want to thank you for everything you have done in helping raise me. I have so many memories. I loved the empanada's and Capiutada you would always make. You would always come to the hospital and see all the new babies that were an addition to the family. I love you and know you are no longer in pain. Say hi to my mommy and grandma for me I know the Angel's are especially nice right now. Love and miss you, but not ever forgotten. Your niece Micki

“ You gave me so many good memories auntie. I'll never forget how you loved to read those thick novel book's. It always amazed me. That you would be done, with what ever it was you were reading in two day's. How about your love for Elvis Presley. I can still hear you say, how handsome he was. You always's helping my mama with her plants. Best memory ever is when you would make me my own corn bread. Thank you God for this day. Love you always auntie. Untill we see each other again.

“ Lupe was always so nice and inviting. She welcomed all of Shanna’s family as her own. She will be greatly missed. She always had a smile on her face that filled the room.
